Cenveo Publisher Services Announces Author Services 2.0 E-Commerce Tool Proven to Improve Journals' Cash Flow

Columbia, MD—August 10, 2017—Cenveo Publisher Services, a division of Cenveo, Inc. (NASDAQ: CVO), announces a major update to Author Services, a publisher-branded e-commerce tool. Author Services enables the collection of fees integrated directly into a publisher's composition workflow.

Cenveo's Author Services solution has been key to helping publishers improve the collection of fees for publication charges, Open Access, reprints/eprints and membership dues. Publishers who use Author Services report a 90% improved cash flow by eliminating common delays with fee collections. Author Services 2.0 now accommodates advanced payment processing, including discounts, coupon codes and expanded payment terms.

The latest iteration of this tool vastly improves transactions and accommodates grant IDs, funding sources, ORCID IDs and more directly in the XML. Security enhancements provide new levels of protection and reliability around transaction workflows.

"Our product roadmap aligns with critical developments in the scholarly publishing community," explains Patrick Tormey, Product Manager of Publishing Technologies at Cenveo Publisher Services. "Integrations with other publishing tools and systems, funding institutions and workflow tracking are increasingly important and we are leading the way in providing that functionality to our customers."

The complete list of updates with additional technical details is available on the company's website. To learn about Cenveo's Author Services and schedule a demo, please visit www.CenveoPublisherServices.com.
