

News Release

Cenveo to Establish Canadian Income Trust Fund

STAMFORD, CT – February 16, 2006 – Cenveo, Inc. (NYSE: CVO) announced plans today to establish a Canadian income trust fund, the Supremex Income Fund. The proposed fund will acquire and hold all of the common shares of Supremex, Inc., Canada’s leading manufacturer and marketer of a broad range of stock and custom envelopes and related products. The Supremex Income Fund, an independent entity established by Cenveo in Canada, has filed a preliminary prospectus in connection with its initial public offering of units.

The Fund anticipates making monthly cash distributions to unitholders after completion of the initial public offering.

Robert G. Burton, Sr., Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Cenveo, stated:

“We believe that the successful completion of this offering will be consistent with our previously announced strategy to de-leverage our balance sheet and will provide an opportunity to redeploy capital to allow us to grow domestically.”

The trust units to be offered have not and will not be registered under the United States Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "U.S. Securities Act"), or any state securities laws of the United States and may not be offered or sold in the United States except in a transaction exempt from the registration requirements of the U.S. Securities Act and applicable state securities laws.

###

Cenveo, Inc. (NYSE: CVO), www.cenveo.com, is one of North America's leading providers of print and visual communications with one-stop services from design through fulfillment. The company's broad portfolio of services and products include, commercial printing, envelopes, labels and business documents through a network of over 80 production, fulfillment and distribution facilities throughout North America.

Statements made in this release, other than those concerning historical financial information, may be considered forward-looking statements, which are subject to risks and uncertainties, including without limitation: (1) general economic, business and labor conditions, (2) the ability to implement the Company's strategic initiatives, (3) the ability to regain profitability after substantial losses in 2004 and the first nine months of 2005, (4) the majority of Company's sales are not subject to long-term contracts, (5) the impact of changes in the board of directors, the company's CEO and other management and strategic direction that may be made, (6) the ability to effectively execute cost reduction programs and management reorganizations, (7) the industry is extremely competitive due to over capacity, (8) the impact of the Internet and other electronic media on the demand for envelopes and printed material, (9) postage rates and other changes in the direct mail industry, (10) environmental laws may affect the Company's business, (11) the ability to retain key management personnel, (12) compliance with recently enacted and proposed changes in laws and regulations affecting public companies could be burdensome and expensive, (13) the ability to successfully identify, manage and integrate possible future acquisitions, (14) dependence on suppliers and the costs of paper and other raw materials and the ability to pass paper price increases onto customers, (15) the ability to meet customer demand for additional value-added products and services, (16) changes in interest rates and currency exchange rates of the Canadian dollar, (17) the ability to manage operating expenses, (18) the risk that a decline in business volume or profitability could result in a further impairment of goodwill, and (19) the ability to timely or adequately respond to technological changes in the Company's industry.

These risks and uncertainties are also set forth under Management's Discussion and Analysis of Results of Operations and Financial Condition in the Cenveo, Inc. Annual Report for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2004, and in the Company's other SEC filings. A copy of the annual report is available on the Company's website at <http://www.cenveo.com>.

Inquiries from analysts and investors should be directed to Robert G. Burton, Jr. at (203) 595-3005